

FLOODED ROADS

About half of all flood-related fatalities are vehicle-related

Never drive through floodwaters or on flooded roads: You cannot know the depth of the water or the condition of the road under the water. Most vehicles can be swept away by less than two feet of water. And floodwater can hide significant damage to the underlying road. If your vehicle stalls, leave it immediately and seek higher ground. The National Weather Service now warns anyone who comes to a flooded roadway to “Turn around...Don’t drown!”

Information about the National Weather Service campaign to increase awareness of the risks of driving into floodwater is available at <http://tadd.weather.gov>.
